Efforts to encourage final year students to appear for GATE examination

The GATE exam's purpose is to test students' knowledge and understanding of their graduate-level subjects in engineering and science. The GATE exam is one of the most prestigious exams for engineers aiming to secure a job in PSU and Govt. sectors or pursue higher education in the premier institutes such as IIT's/NIT's/IISc etc. This article will discuss the benefits of the GATE exam, with every tiny detail covered straightforwardly.

While in EPCET there are faculty members who give proper guidance who can take you through the exam and actually help you with how the preparation must be done. Below are the various practices which we follow in EPCET.

a. Toppers Talk:

Every year after the GATE exam result is released, toppers talk is released in which the toppers talk about their strategy and how they cracked the exam. These videos act as an inspiration as well as a guide for your preparation. They help you know the books one must read, the notes which are helpful, how to prepare for college, and many more.

b. Weekend Classes:

Keeping in mind the college students as well as working professionals, there are weekend batches by various coaching institutes. In these batches experienced faculties help you inline your preparation keeping in mind the pattern of the exam and its syllabus. These weekend batches provide you Classroom Classes along with the necessary study material.

c. Online Classes:

Online Classes can prove to be really effective for College Students if utilized properly. Platforms like MADE EASY PRIME offer the best content quality to students through online mode. Students can choose from the wide domain of courses available online to take their preparation for GATE to the next level. This can be supplemented with Online Test Series and Postal Study Package.

d. Summer Classes:

If there is no coaching institute near you, then you can also join summer classes. These summer courses are mainly aimed at college students to provide them guidance during the preparation phase. One can join these classes both after 2nd and 3rd. These summer classes will be of great help in your preparation and provide you the much-needed counseling for your GATE examination.
